A big “Thank you” to the Stockholm group for a great collaboration meeting!

Thanks to the organizers for a great ZTF collaboration meeting in Stockholm! The group photo is at the end of the newsletter and on Twitter.

Documenting the conclusions from this week - speakers: help the collaboration remember the most important conclusions from your talk

It was proposed at the end of the meeting that every speaker will add a two-sentences conclusion near his/her uploaded talk in the relevant section of the tWiki, so that we have a quick view of the main conclusions.

If you gave a talk, please add these conclusions by Monday August 13.

Restructuring the Slack channels list.

It was suggested that the many slack channels currently used will be replaced by sub-channels of the ZTF general channel (similar to LSST Slack structure). This will make it much easier to users to quickly see what is available and join relevant threads, which they currently cannot. Moreover, the number of subchannels is unlimited and so there is no issue with having many of them.

If you are a group-coordinator, please transform your slack channel into a sub-channel of the ZTF general channel, (sub-channels can be transferred too by adding underscore symbols).

Wish list of available softwares

Following several requests, the available softwares page on the tWiki now has a wish list section, where you can add requests and help us avoid redundant work.

IMPORTANT: please add your answers to the ZTF FAQs page!

During several weeks, we have listed the questions that people across the collaboration would like to have in the FAQs page. Now it is time to add answers. Please help us fill the voids (and elaborate on the answers already there).

News from working groups

We will resume gathering news from the working groups coordinators starting next week.
